

Writing a Science Lab Report

Purpose of a Lab Report
A lab report is a written account of a scientific experiment. The purpose of a lab report is to communicate the results of an experiment to other scientists. It is a way of sharing information about the experiment and the results. It is also a way of learning about the experiment and the results.

Before you get started
Read the instructions carefully. They will tell you what to do and how to do it. They will also tell you what to write and how to write it. They will also tell you what to do and how to do it.

Results of a Lab Report
The results of a lab report are the data that you collect during the experiment. They are the numbers and words that you use to describe what you see and what you do. They are the facts that you use to support your conclusions.

Language
Use clear and concise language. Avoid using too many words. Use simple words and phrases. Use the present tense. Use the active voice. Use the first person singular.
