

Your Own Worst Enemy No More

Are You Your Own Worst Enemy?
10 Key Indicators That Will Reveal If You're in Your Own Way

1. You worry about what others would "think and laugh at my dream."
2. You create excuses for your lack of action.
3. You obsess over others' "What-ifs" and "What-should-haves" you fantasize.

4. You don't create time to spend for your dreams, when in fact you are just making excuses. You have to create your own time.

5. You refuse to be vulnerable, so you do what is familiar or you compare yourself to others.

6. You don't create time to spend for your dreams, when in fact you are just making excuses. You have to create your own time.

7. You don't allow yourself to feel worthy of success.

8. You refuse to be vulnerable, so you do what is familiar or you compare yourself to others.

9. You refuse to be vulnerable, so you do what is familiar or you compare yourself to others.

10. You place much more emphasis on what you think others will think, instead of the success you are creating.

In order to do it, be all that God created you to be, you can't be afraid of your own power. Your gut is your spirit and the best that will help lead you to your best life. Don't let your own weakness block your path.

Love and blessings,
